PRESIDENT TAFT AT A BASEBALL GAME

Walked Out on the Diamond At Chicago and Shook Hands With All the Players.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—President Taft, during a stay of twelve eventful hours in Chicago, plunged with a will into the long program of entertaining that awaits him on his long Western and Southern itinerary. With perfect weather and crowds that fairly fought to catch a glimpse of the chief executive, this, the first city to be visited, set a high mark of enthusiastic welcome to the President.

From the moment he stepped off the rear platform of his private car until he retired late last night on board the train which will take him to Milwaukee today, the President's journeyings of thirty miles or more over the city's streets and parkways led him through lanes of massed humanity that were kept open with the greatest difficulty.

Beginning with an automobile trip in review of 150,000 school children, four deep on either side of the park boulevards, the President's day was replete with incident. He attended and spoke briefly at a luncheon of the Commercial Club, viewed an exhibit of ambitious plans for the improvement and beautification of Chicago, attended the regular National League baseball game between the Chicago Champion Cubs and the famous New York Giants; dined quietly with the Hamilton Club at the Congress Hotel; made a notable address to a mass meeting in Orchestra hall yesterday evening, and as a finale attended for a few minutes the ball of the American Bankers' Association at the auditorium.

Mr. Taft was deeply impressed by the greeting of the school children, each one of whom waved an American flag and sang and cheered as he passed.

At the National League grounds yesterday afternoon, the President saw his biggest baseball crowd. More than 30,000 people were present. The President sat in one of the open sections of the double-decked stand and thoroughly enjoyed a brilliant game with the two greatest pitchers of the league—Mathewson of New York and Brown of Chicago—faced each other. New York won, but the crowd had some compensation in cheering the President, who remained to the end and waved a farewell to the throngs.

President Taft, when he first reached the park, went down on the field and shook hands with the members of both teams. Proceeding then to the reserved section standing he held an impromptu reception during which he met "Pop" Anson, the famous old Chicago player; Harry Herrmann, president of the National Baseball Commission, and John A. Heydler, president of the National League. Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago club, was with the President during part of the game.

DR. CLOAR ARRIVES.

Reception Tendered New Baptist Minister at McClellan Home.

After a delay of one day, caused by misunderstanding in railroad connections, Rev. J. J. Cloar, the newly appointed minister of the First Baptist church, arrived in the city from Owensboro, Ky., Friday afternoon over the Seaboard Air Line. He was met at the station by a committee composed of Deacons Robert McClellan and J. M. Rivers, and accompanied to the home of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan in an automobile.

The entire Baptist congregation were anxiously awaiting the arrival of Dr. Cloar, and were pleased to learn of his coming last night.

A reception was tendered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan Friday night, which was largely attended by members of the Baptist church and their friends of other denominations, also by ministers of the various churches and their families, and during the evening a spirit of good fellowship prevailed, which made Dr. Cloar feel that he was welcomed "in the house of his friends."

During the evening delicious punch and refreshments were served, and altogether the occasion was a most enjoyable one.

Dr. Cloar will fill his first engagement at the First Baptist church tomorrow, which may be in the nature of a union service. He comes highly recommended, and it is hoped he will be pleased.

IN THE MAYOR'S COURT.

Number of Violators of Sanitary Ordinance Were Arraigned.

The Friday session of the mayor's court was not without its interest, but this time it was along the lines of sanitary regulations, as a half-dozen were arraigned upon a charge of violating the sanitary ordinance. After a brief reprimand by Mayor Davis for permitting such a charge to come against them, each of the defendants were let down with the payment of the costs and the sanitary bill.

Solomon Brown and his wife, Mary Brown, were arraigned upon a charge of fighting and disorderly conduct. The man was fined $10 and costs or twenty days, and the fine was promptly paid. The woman was discharged, as there was not sufficient evidence to hold her.

San Antonio Light and Gazette, who rode all the way from San Antonio to Chicago to present a formal invitation to Mr. Taft to visit that city, also met the President at the ball game. He was in typical cowboy costume and had reached Chicago on a horse from the Taft ranch in Texas only yesterday morning. The President assured Mr. Reilly that he was looking forward with much pleasure to his visit to San Antonio.

Mr. Taft received many hearty cheers from the baseball enthusiasts, especially when he stood up with the rest of the fans at the beginning of the "lucky seventh." Although the seventh only brought a blank for the home club, the crowd appreciated the President's good intentions.

Once during the game Mr. Taft was asked by one of his party:

"Mr. President, whom are you for, Chicago or New York?"

"I'm for Cincinnati," declared the President with an anxious look at the score board which showed a 3 to 3 tie game between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh in the seventh inning. But just then the score-board boy marked up four for Pittsburgh in the eighth and two in the ninth and the President declared amid laughter that he was dumbfounded.

to $100,000,000 In Value.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—A hundred brief words, weighted each with approximately $1,000,000 and containing in their entirety the last testament of E. H. Harriman, make his widow, Mary Averell Harriman, one of the wealthiest women in the world. It is perhaps the briefest will on record for the disposal of an estate of such magnitude. All his property is left to Mrs. Harriman.

Wall street estimates that Mrs. Harriman will inherit in realty and personal property between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000. Mr. Harriman's private fortune is supposed to have been greater than this by many millions, but there is reason to believe that his unmarried daughters, Mary and Carol, his married daughter, Mrs. Robert Livingsone Gerry, and his two sons, William Averell and Roland, a boy of fourteen, together with his surviving sister, Mrs. Simons, and other relatives, have all been substantially provided for in gifts out of hand and trust funds set aside by Mr. Harriman during his life time.

The will is dated June 8, 1903, and it witnessed by Charles A. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, who drew it, and C. C. Tegethoff. Mr. Peabody was Mr. Harriman's close personal friend and was frequently a caller at Arden house during his last illness. He relinquished a law practice commonly estimated as worth $100,000 a year to assume at a smaller salary the executive direction of a company in which Mr. Harriman was heavily interested. Mr. Tegethoff was Mr. Harriman's personal secretary.

Mrs. Harriman was Miss Mary Averell, daughter of W. J. Averell, a wealthy banker of Rochester, N. Y., who made his money in the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railway Company. She brought her husband financial aid in his early struggles in the market, when aid was most valuable to him. He never needed it again, for his administrative ability soon won him the support of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the National City Bank and the powerful Standard Oil clique. Their thirty-six years of married life has always been said were ideally happy.

On Mrs. Harriman's shoulders will now rest the management of the 43,000 acres of woodland, pasture land and fertile black bottoms in the Ram-poo valley, and on the steep sides of Tower Hill; the completion of the great house on which its master had already lavished $2,500,000 without living to see it finished; and those plans of public benefaction—parks and forest reservations—which it is known that Mr. Harriman cherished, though he makes no mention of them in his will.

If the estate measures up to expectation, Mrs. Harriman, according to common estimation here, is the wealthiest woman in the world. Mrs. Hetty Green's holdings have been estimated at $40,000,000; those of Mrs. Fred Courtland Penfield, who was Anne Weightman, of Philadelphia, at $8,000,000, and those of Mrs. Russell Sage at a like amount.

The will was filed yesterday with the surrogate of Orange county, New York, at Goshen. It was pointed out at Goshen yesterday that by making no bequests to children or relatives, Mr. Harriman avoided the large share of the enormous inheritance tax, which under the laws of the State of New York would otherwise be imposed. Mrs. Harriman's dower rights are subject to no tax whatever, and the remaining two-thirds of the estate to a tax of only one per cent.

Orange county is the home of millionaires, and the county clerk's files hold many important wills, that of James S. (Silent) Smith, for example, which disposed of $25,000,000 paid an inheritance tax of $923,495.55, the largest on record, at Goshen.

And Still They Wed.

Notwithstanding the continued warm weather, Judge Mason's marriage docket shows a fine record for the past few days.

Within the past three days licenses have been issued as follows:

Henry Conner and Leoma Traylor, Elzey Gunter and Effie Dowling, Ed Jesse Myer and Ruth E. Robinson, A. B. Stephens and F. Neel Johnson, white; George Furman and Marie Steward, Frank Thomas and Nora Jones, colored.

Some people are so shrinkingly meek that they seem to be constantly apologizing for living. At the other extreme are people so dogmatic and assertive that they seem to apologize for letting others live.

A Mother Lost Her Baby From Trolley Car Window

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 17.—The lady who lost her baby from the trolley car window on one of the lines of the Georgia Railway Electric Company the other day didn't have to advertise to find it. She told the conductor about it.

"I lost my baby out of the window," she said. "Will you please stop the car and get it for me?"

The conductor stopped the car and ran back. He found the baby sitting on the macadam road by the trolley tracks, yelling lustily. He was somewhat confused when he got back to the car, for he feared the infant had been hurt by its fall.

"Is this yours?" he asked.

It was hers. She fondled it rather tearfully and it was soon cooling in her lap again. The car proceeded on its way and the baby wasn't lost again—at least on that trip.

The written report of this incident reached the officials of the trolley company next day and nobody would believe it until the conductor verified it by word of mouth. The report had been sent in along with reports of packages found on the cars, hats blown out of the windows, and various other incidents of daily trolley traffic. The first man who got the report passed it up under the impression that it was a "basket lost out of the window," and the next man who got it had to read it twice to make sure he was seeing straight.

It is the first accident of its kind ever reported in Atlanta.

Under New Drastic Law Officers Invade Home

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 17.—On a search warrant sworn out by Sheriff Drago, the home of Charles Nelson at No. 5 Conti street was invaded about noon yesterday by five deputy sheriffs and searched for liquors, despite the protests of his family. Nelson formerly kept a saloon at No. 3 Conti street, and now conducts a soft drink establishment there.

This is the first instance in this city of the invasion of the home of a citizen under the provisions of the drastic Fuller law.

"The deputies," said Mrs. Nelson, "turned our beds upside down, ransacked bureau drawers, writing desks, sideboards, etc. Finally they went in the rooms of my daughters and demanded that the trunks be opened. My husband told them they would have to break them open. I finally unlocked the trunks and the girls had to take their clothing out of the trunks with the deputies standing over them. The only liquor found was a half pint in a sideboard drawer. The officers carried that away with them."

Government Issues Record Wholesale Lumber Prices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—A record of the wholesale prices of lumber f. o. b. mill for the quarter including April, May, and June, last, based on reports submitted by more than 2,000 of the largest manufacturers of lumber in all parts of the country, has been issued by the United States Forest Service. Requests for data for the second quarter, ending September 30, will be sent out in several weeks, and will be published in the early part of October.

The record covers the principal items of all the commercial woods cut in nearly every State. The compilation was undertaken for the double purpose of having a continuous statistical record of such prices and to show, in contrast to market prices—which include the important items of freight charges and selling costs—just what the manufacturers of lumber receive for their product at the mill.

For more than a year a monthly record has been compiled showing the prices of lumber in 18 of the largest markets of the country. The market prices published do not show what the lumber is worth at the mill, as the freight charges, selling costs, and other items were included, but the quarterly record eliminates these items and shows the mill price. Only a few representative grades in each of the hardwoods and softwoods were taken, but from them lumbermen can draw deductions so as to give the approximate value of grades on which prices were not requested. In addition to the numerous items on which prices were secured, the value of the mill run—the average of all grades of lumber produced—was also obtained for all the commercial woods.

SAD FLIGHT OF ANNIE STOKES,
DEMENTED NEGRO WOMAN.

Threatened to Burn Homes of Neighbors, All of Whom Were Afraid
She Would Do So.

For the first time in several days the residents in the vicinity of North University street and Pleasant lane are sleeping in peace and contentment, the cause of annoyance having been removed.

For the past week Annie Stokes, a demented negress, has kept that community on the verge of fear, and the neighbors lived in constant dread that she would either burn them out or do someone bodily harm. This condition of affairs rocked along until it became unbearable, when the woman was reported, and on Wednesday afternoon, just as the sun was setting, Marshal Owens and Deputy John Bennett went to the woman's home, when she was taken into custody.

Marshal Owens states that the woman had the door barred, was in bed, and refused to "open up," although she "opened up" on them without ceremony, and declared she would not accompany them a step. The officers secured an entrance through a window, and found the woman clothed only in her night gown. She could not be induced to don her street attire, but the officers were bound to accomplish their purpose, and took her, dressed in the night robe only, into an automobile and drove her to the city jail, where she was kept in confinement for the night. On Thursday morning her clothing was sent to her, which she donned without hesitation in a cooler moment, after which she was given breakfast and was taken to the county jail, where she will remain until an attendant can arrive from the State asylum.

Annie declared to the officers that she was not crazy, but drunk, as she had been imbibing freely for the past few days of "blind tiger" liquor. She was considerably more reserved Thursday morning, and said: "I am not crazy; I have been drunk on mean liquor; I am sober now, and have come to my senses again."

But Marshal Owens did not feel inclined to take her word, and will hold her for the asylum, where she was an inmate twice before.

It is said that the woman during the past few days had threatened to burn down the houses of certain neighbors in the vicinity of her home.

PLEASANT SURPRISE PARTY.

Tendered to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Crown at Rocky Point.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Crown, Sr., presented a happy scene Wednesday night, when, in commemoration of the anniversary of the nineteenth year of married life of this estimable couple, a large number of friends of the neighborhood gave them a complete but most agreeable surprise.

Just after the supper hour the party invaded the home, but Mr. and Mrs. Crown, as usual, were equal to the occasion, and it was not long before a genuine good time was in progress. During the evening delicious refreshments were served.

The party was suddenly broken up about 11 o'clock by another surprise of an exciting nature, which had not been anticipated on the program. A telephone message came that someone had tried to break into the store of J. H. Crown, and Mr. Crown, who happened to be at the store, made a third surprise, as the parties evidently believed him to be at the home of J. S. Crown, where the party was in progress. Mr. Crown's gun failing to work, he called over the 'phone for assistance, and a half-dozen or more stalwart men rushed to the scene, only to find upon their arrival that the would-be burglar had made his escape. The night was dark, and no attempt was made to track him, although tracks were numerous around the store.

MARRIAGE AT JUDSON.

Two Well-Known and Popular Young

JUDSON, Sept. 17.—This town was the scene of a happy marriage recently, the contracting parties being W. H. Weeks and Miss Merla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Curry. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Notary Public R. S. Tucker officiating. A large crowd was present, and many congratulations and best wishes were extended to the happy couple.

The Wonders of Science.

It was left for the exhibitor of a phonograph in the streets of Utrecht, according to an American traveler, to put the finishing touch to the wonderful invention. There was the sound of a military band in full blast, and then suddenly the tune stopped and "Halt!" rang hoarsely out upon the air.

"Who's that interrupting the concert?" blimpantly inquired the American, edging close to the operator.

"That," said the man, surveying him blandly, "was the voice of Napoleon Bonaparte giving the order at the battle of Waterloo."

That Was the Trouble.

A Wichita man was fussing because of his aching teeth. "Why don't you go to a dentist?" asked one of his friends.

"Oh, I haven't got the nerve," was the reply.

"Never mind that," replied the friend. "The dentist will find the nerve all right."—Kansas City Journal.

PURVEYORS TO ROYALTY.

Their Signs Constitute One of the Sights of London.

The American in London, on his first visit to that marvelous city, is struck by the number of signs over shops with the royal arms painted thereon and announcing that the tradesman is a purveyor to their majesties. Yet, when the matter is sifted, the number is not so large.

Officially, according to the London News, there are about 200 tradesmen in London who hold the royal warrant and are entitled to use the royal arms as a shop sign, with the accompanying words, "By royal appointment." The royal warrant has to be received, signed and sealed in due form; otherwise, if a tradesman styles himself a purveyor to a member of the royal family without this formal permission, he is guilty of an offense which is punishable by a fine not exceeding £20. Moreover, he is liable to a similar fine if he uses arms so nearly resembling the royal arms as to lead people to believe that he is carrying on his business under the authority of royalty. Several instances have occurred of the enforcement of these penalties.

The warrants are exhibited in the shop windows, headed by the royal arms and bearing the signature of the lord chamberlain, the comptroller of the royal household, the treasurer of the latter, or of the master of the horse, etc., according to the circumstances.

SMOKING A PIPE.

It Is Said to Give the Face a Square
Jawed Effect.

"There is one question I always ask a man who wants a job," remarked the business man who has to hire several hundred men for different positions each year.

"The question I always ask them is, 'Do you smoke a pipe much?' Of course the answers are various. Some of them smoke a pipe a great deal and others not at all.

"Why do I ask about the pipe? Well, not that I have the least interest in their habits or that I have any prejudice one way or another in the matter. The reason is that I want to know whether the formation of their lower jaws is natural or acquired.

"A man with a firm lower jaw is always a man of parts and of will. I say 'always'—anyway, most always. If he does not smoke a pipe his square jaw, back near where it hinges on to the upper one, is natural. If he is a pipe smoker the looks are deceiving, and I have to judge his caliber some other way.

"Pipe smokers always have strong muscles back on the face about the place a man stops when he makes the first stroke downward in shaving. These are the muscles that hold the jaws together. They often give a square jawed effect to a man who hasn't any square jaw characteristics. My men think I ask funny questions, but there's a reason."—New York Times.

A Narrow Escape.

Edgar N. Bayliss, a merchant of Robinsonville, Del., wrote: "About two years ago I was thin and sick, and coughed all the time and if I did not have consumption, it was near it. I commenced using Foley's Honey and Tar, and it stopped my cough, and I am now entirely well, and have gained twenty-eight pounds, all due to the good results from taking Foley's Honey and Tar." J. THE RED SKINS WIN BOTH GAMES FRIDAY

WON IN AFTERNOON BY SCORE
OF 5 TO 4, NIGHT GAME 7 TO 6.

Both Pitchers Did Good Work in the Afternoon Game, But Errors
Responsible for Defeat.

The Chickasaw Indian baseball team celebrated their appearance here yesterday by winning two games from the Oak Halls, one in the afternoon by the score of 5 to 4 and the evening game by the tune of 7 to 6. The crowd at the afternoon game was not as large as was anticipated, but those who attended saw an interesting, though slow game. The Red Skins can put up a good game, for they are all good players, and are handy with the stick.

Only three of the regular Oak Halls were in the line up for the locals, but they put up a good game at that, and are going to play for all they are worth to take the game today. The Indians state that they will show the local fans how the game should be played when they trot out on the diamond this afternoon. Let everyone attend the game this afternoon, as it will be their last chance to witness a baseball contest this season.

"Pop" Watson pitched a magnificent game, and Waller, behind the bat, caught a pretty game. Sandy Graham carried off the fielding honors by his clever fielding at short. Hendricks was in his old time form, scooping up everything that came within his reach and tossing them over to first with great accuracy.

The Indians have a cracker-jack team, and when they want runs they get busy with the stick and get them, too. Gorman, on short, for the Indians fielded his position nicely, while the battery, Pique and Hartley, were as good as any seen here this year.

Wahoo Horseinthewoods will probably do the twirling for the Braves today, and he is said to be the only real "spit-ball" artist in captivity.

In the eighth inning Big Chief Curly hit a line drive to right which went outside the line, and the umpire called it a foul ball. The Indian yelled: "Uh! uh! heap fair ball, ump!"

The bride-elect has also resided here, and during her stay made many warm and lasting friends, who will be delighted to learn that she will return as Mrs. Eddins.

After a month spent in traveling, Mr. and Mrs. Eddins will be at home to their friends on Thursdays.

Congratulations are extended in advance.

Mr. Boote Was Pleased.

After two or three days spent in this city with friends, Charles Boote and two interesting little sons left yesterday for Citronelle, where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Holder for the next few days.

Mr. Boote, who is connected with the office of city treasurer of Jacksonville, is also a district deputy grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias. He paid Mount Vernon lodge a visit Tuesday night and received a most cordial welcome, which he declares he cannot forget for some time—if at all. He is very favorably impressed with Gainesville from every point of view, and says, with the clever class of citizens, it is no wonder that the city enjoys a fine reputation throughout the entire State.

EAGLES HAD BIG TIME.

Plenty of Work Thursday Night, After Which Came Banquet.

The regular weekly convocation of the local aerie of Eagles was full of interest Thursday night, as there was plenty of work to do in the way of initiating candidates, after which the members sat down to a fine spread of lemonade, sandwiches, cake, etc. W. G. Richardson acted as master of ceremonies in a most pleasing and interesting manner, and while seated around the festive board many informal talks of interest along the lines of the good of the order were made.

The Eagles, which organized here only a few months ago, are making rapid strides. They now have one of the largest and most popular aeries in the State, which is the subject of praise from every visiting Eagle.

ting in the second inning when McDole sent a short fly to left, which dropped safe, Gorman sacrificing him to second; Pique singled to left, sending McDole across the plate with the first run of the game. Pique swiped second, where he died, as Curly and Nona could not connect with Watson's slants.

The game went merrily on with neither side scoring until the fourth, when the Indians got busy again on a bunt by Gorman, a stolen base and a single to right, netting one run. It looked as if the locals were going to be blanked, for they were going out in one-two-three order. However in the fifth the Oak Halls took a decided brace and scored three runs. Watson hit to third and was safe on first on an error; Clark fanned; Hendricks, running for Watson, stole second; Wilson hit to first, who threw to third to catch Hendricks, and both runners were safe; Wilson swiped second; Douglass came along with a timely single to right, scoring Hendricks and Wilson, and taking second himself on the throw to the plate; Baldwin hit to pitcher, who tried to catch Douglass going to third but failed, both runners safe; Baldwin stole second; Hendricks flew out to left, scoring Douglass; Graham flew out to center. This ended the run-getting, for the locals until the ninth.

The Braves, one run behind, jumped in and one measley single coupled up with numerous errors, managed to send three Braves around the circuit. In the ninth Davis' Colts made a desperate effort to overcome the lead of the Indians, but the best they could do was to send one man around the circuit. This was made by Tim Hendricks, the Oak Hall's daring base-runner, who swiped second and third, and came home on a low throw by the catcher when he swiped third base.

The Night Game.

The evening game went to the Indians by the score of 7 to 6. The diamond was lit up by thirteen powerful lights, the bases were shortened to a little over half the regular distance, and it was a hard matter to knock the ball outside of the infield.

The ball used was nearly the size of a football, but considerably softer, and the bat considerably smaller than the regular baseball bat. The Indians, being more familiar with handling the ball, points of the game, etc., had little difficulty in winning, and made runs at will. One Red Skin hit a slow infield grounder and made a circuit of the bases without stopping, the locals failing to handle the ball properly.

Tim Hendricks starred on the bases for the locals, stealing second, third and in home in one inning, besides pitching a good game. He soon caught on how to curve the sphere, and he had slants and warps to burn. Waller did the receiving without the aid of a lantern.

It was one of the largest and most enthusiastic crowds of the season that witnessed the evening game. The grandstand was packed and the field overflowed with eager spectators, who wanted to see the National game played after dark. The contest only lasted seven innings and required the short time of forty-five minutes to play it.

It is to be hoped that when our friends set out for the South Pole, they will arrange to go one at a time, and so avoid confusion.

There are people who would recite with unctious the Ten Commandments from the top of Mt. Sinai, but who do not care much about keeping them when at home.

Mail carriers are not required to enter premises where fierce dogs are kept. If this applied to process servers we could foresee considerable activity in the bull dog market.

Be sure to have your child enter school on the opening day, for a day lost in the education of your boy or girl is seldom made up. In fact, it cannot be made up during the school term.

When women carry pet dogs in their arms while out walking instead of wheeling their children, they have but themselves to blame for the unfavorable impression they make on all sensible people.

Don't look for flaws in the life of others. Everybody has enough in his own that need looking after and if he honestly tries to remedy them he will have no time left to hunt out those of other people.

The nation that gives itself over to materialism is a nation in process of decay, for it means loss of revenue, of the higher instincts, of the sense of responsibility and of all other qualities that make for permanence.

Canada, it is estimated, will this year yield 168,386,000 bushels of wheat of which 149,000,000 bushels will be produced west of the Great Lakes. Pretty good for what a few years ago was a howling wilderness.

After all the man who lives an inconspicuous life has his compensations. He has not to be guarded by detectives when he appears in public, neither does a host of reporters descend upon him and make his life a burden everytime he leaves his house.

If you do not believe the want ads. in The Sun are read, just try one. Advertise that you want a room or wish to buy something, and see how many answers you will get. This is the way to test the question, if you are in doubt about The Sun's value as an advertising medium.

It is easy to get an exaggerated idea of business corruption and moral wrong doing. If a man defaults in business, accepts a bribe or is involved in a scandal the news is published throughout the land and everybody reads it and talks about it. But the quiet, honest, upright, guiding-one-business life of the great majority of people is not recorded. Yet it exists all the while and is the very bedrock of the nation.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Darien (Ga.) Gazette: "The new Governor acts just like a man whose whole desire is to give the Georgia people a business administration, regardless of what is going to happen the coming year."

New York Press: "This Government should forbid the discovery of any more poles by anybody. One is enough, apparently, to set the world to scrapping, and any government that can say to another, 'We will not admit you to our shores, but you must borrow our money,' can do anything."

Indianapolis News: "While Dr. Cook and Commander Peary are dividing the people of the northern hemisphere on the question of who reached the 'top' of the earth first, there is still an opportunity for another American. Let him get to the South Pole, nail the flag there and declare that he has reached the top of the earth first. With a 'solus South' behind him, he might get in through the ranks of a divided North, and take the medals."

Springfield (Mass.) Republican: "One astronomer says that an explorer might fix the pole within an area as large as a room. Another sets 500 feet as the limit of accuracy, a third, a mile. One authority discredits Dr. Cook's record because he used a mere sextant—he should have carried a theodolite. Perhaps a mural circle would have come in handy, too. However, a sextant at the pole is more to the point than a whole astronomical observatory stalled by the way."

Washington Star: "Except for the fact that, with us, nearly every strongly controverted matter gets into politics, there would be no point to the question asked as to this matter. But if the politicians get busy they should have a care. When the little boy who had taken the thermometer to pieces swallowed the mercury, an unfeeling wit observed that 'it was a chilly day for Willie when the mercury went down.' So may it be said that it will be a cold day for the party that takes up the North Pole as an issue."

Cleveland Plain-Dealer (Dem.): "Nothing is more firmly established in popular belief than that a government by parties cannot rise to its greatest efficiency unless there is at all times an active, intelligent minority. President Taft voiced this conviction when in April he said he had no hope that the South would become Republican. The Democratic party is needed. The more 'rehabilitation' conferences that are held between now and the opening of the campaign for the 1912 nominations the better, not only for the party, but for the nation as well."

A convict sentenced to prison for life is not legally dead. So a New York court has ruled. The sister of a life convict applied for letters of administration on his estate, on the ground that her brother was legally dead. The court said no, and that the property would have to get along as best it might until the man was physically dead or pardoned.

The man who makes a practice of finding fault with everything in his home town and extolling everything to be found in other towns is on a par with the man who praises other families at the expense of his own. Both are undesirable citizens whose presence works harm.

The entry of Judge Reeves of Walton county into the race for United States Senator will add new interest to the contest next year. Judge Reeves is one of the best campaigners in Florida, and the other candidates will realize that he is to be reckoned with long before the canvass is over. He made his start in life as a teacher and was Prof. Sheat's strongest opponent for State Superintendent of Schools at the Ocala convention. The editor of The Sun was associated with Judge Reeves for four years in the State Senate, and he was without doubt one of the ablest men that ever occupied a seat in the upper branch of the Florida Legislature.

Everyone who comes here from a foreign land to make this country his permanent home should become an American citizen. This he owes to this nation which protects him with laws, throws open to him and his children the doors of its educational and other institutions, gives him work and compensation for his work, and many other advantages he not only never possessed but never dreamed of in his native land. America has plenty of room for Americans, but none for those who refuse to assume the duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

Parents can do much to make or mar the school life of their children. Nothing will spoil a child's future career so readily as unfair criticism of a teacher, and nothing will do more to help make the teacher's work a success than the knowledge that she has the good will and co-operation of the parents. Every sensible father and mother knows this and acts accordingly.

Peruna Tablets Tested.

What are the Peruna Tablets good for? Has anybody used them enough to know what they will do? Read the following letter and see. If you have any doubt as to the genuineness of the letter, write to Mrs. Lohr, enclose a stamp for reply, and see whether her testimonial is genuine or not:

Ravenna, Mich., June 16, 1908. The Peruna Drug Co.

In regard to the Peruna Tablets, I have used about ten boxes in all.

While I was in Chicago my oldest daughter was bothered with a cough all the time. She has had it for four years. Sometimes it would go away, and in the winter time it was so bad that the doctors and professors said that she had consumption, and the only way to give her any relief was to perform an operation.

I spend so much money for different medicines, and for doctors also. Nothing seemed to help her.

So I saw the Peruna Tablets advertised in the paper, and I got a box and tried them. She could get some sleep by taking them. She would be up all night and cough. So in all she took six boxes, and never was bothered any more.

I will leave this for any one to inquire at our old residence, where we lived in Chicago. All our neighbors would say that she could not live with such a cough. You don't know how thankful I am. She is eighteen years old.

My oldest son also was bothered with his stomach, throwing up, and his bowels so loose all the time. He was all run down for four months. I also doctored with him. One would say this and the other something else. I started in to give him the Tablets, and now he is all right and healthy looking. He took four boxes. That is all he wants to take whenever anything ails him.

So I praise your Tablets just as high as I have your Peruna. That is all the medicine that ever comes in my house. Whenever I travel I take some with me. I have had three of my children sick with scarlet fever two months ago, and that is all I used, was the Peruna and the Tablets. I did not lose any of them.

If there is any more information you want, why just let me know and I will be glad to do so. Yours truly,

Mrs. L. LOHR, Ravenna, Mich.

Gadsden county tobacco growers are only receiving ten to eighteen cents a pound for their shade-grown Sumatra tobacco, a wrapper tobacco worth one dollar per pound. Lack of organization and dealing with the tobacco trust is thought to be the main reason for this low price.

THE DEER'S HORNS.

They Present All the Phenomena of Animal and Vegetable Growth.

Why and how is the deer so peculiarly unlike any other of the bovine race, the horn differing so materially from all the horned cattle in its composition, growth, maturity and decline? It presents all the phenomena of animal and vegetable growth. It sprouts from the brain without any prolongation of the frontal bone. It rises and breaks through the sinews and takes root on the bone, growing the same as a vegetable. It is nourished by and secretes albumen upon the surface and disposes of the fibrin the same as an animal.

It is clothed with a skin and hairy coat very different from those on the rest of the body. This covering and hair possess a property unknown in other animal bodies—that of being a styptic to stanch its own blood when wounded. It carries marks of the age on the buck by putting out an extra branch each year, which shows an additional power each year to produce them. And this power does not exist in the female. So this difference is more distinctly marked than in any other class of animals. Again, the horn possesses properties unknown in any other animal matter. It is entirely inodorous, capable of resisting putrefaction and almost impervious to the effects of the atmosphere.

And still water at 300 degrees F will dissolve these horns readily, even though they are not soluble in alcohol and resist the action of acids and alkalis. It is the only vegetable animal substance that we know of that does not perpetuate itself by procreation.

The male and the female are sustained by the same nutrition and elements, and only the male produces horns. This phenomenon is quite as much of a curiosity as the absence of the horn in the buck after shedding.—Exchange.

Have You a Baby?

Then watch it closely. And above all things don't let it suffer for any length of time with worms—that is fatal. SPARED BY THE ENEMY.

A Dramatic Incident in the Career of General de Gallifet.

It was on that fatal day, Sept. 1, 1870, that General de Gallifet distinguished himself by commanding the cavalry charges intended to clear the elevation at Illy, with the view of opening a passage toward Floing, where it was hoped the army might retreat. The first charge overthrew the Eighty-third regiment of the Prussians and penetrated among the German troops, but the latter formed again rapidly after the retirement of the French cavalry.

General Ducrot then asked if they could renew the charge with what remained of the light cavalry and hussars, and then Gallifet answered in the words that have become historic, "As often as you wish, general, as long as a man remains." The second charge was not so successful as the first. Only a few men, with their general at their head, succeeded in penetrating the first ranks of the enemy. It is known that the king of Prussia, who was watching the battle from the top of the hill of Marfee, exclaimed with admiration, "Oh, les braves gens!"

Just at this moment an astonishing event occurred in the midst of the battle. As Gallifet was returning with a few survivors, their horses for the most part wounded or foundered, he passed before the Nassau regiment. The Prussian officers ordered their men to cease fire and even struck up some of their guns. The French saluted and shouted, "Vive l'empereur!" and the German officers acknowledged the salute, some of them applauding.—Westminster Gazette.

SCIENTIFIC FEEDING.

Health as a Primary Factor in Intelligent Living.

Health and success are so largely dependent upon balance, upon symmetry of development, physical and mental harmony, that we should do everything possible to secure that physical poise which also means mental and moral poise. A large part of our ills come from one sided development, caused by overstimulating some tissue cells and starving others—overfeeding and underfeeding. Scientific feeding, therefore, is of vast importance.

Overeating and improper eating are among the curses of the world. Think of the people who put all sorts of incompatibles into their stomachs at the same time and then use all sorts of nostrums to get rid of their bad effects.

One of the most pathetic sights in the world is that of a human being struggling hard to carry out his ambition, yet handicapping himself by his ignorance of physical laws.

What a pathetic figure Carlyle cut in the world—a one sided giant who might have been a symmetrical power, possessor of a colossal brain largely controlled by a dyspeptic stomach! He was cross and crabbed and did just the things that he did not want to do, things that he knew it would be better not to do, but he was the victim of starved nerves, of exhausted brain cells largely for want of common sense feeding.—Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

SAT IN THE SENATE.

An Outsider Who Innocently Made Himself at Home.

The American people once elected a tailor to the presidency, and doubtless many manipulators of the shears and goose have sat in the seats of the mighty by election, but only once did a tailor make himself at home on the floor of the United States senate when he had no constituency to represent.

The tailor was Hermann Moritz Riedel of Philadelphia, who visited Washington in April, 1888, to attend the exciting scenes during the impeachment proceedings against Andrew Johnson, a fellow craftsman. And this is the account of how he witnessed these proceedings as published in the Washington Republican of that day:

"A good looking Teutonic friend of ours a day or two since made an earnest appeal to our Muggins for a ticket to the senate to listen to what was going forward at the impeachment trial. Muggins, as is his wont, in the kindness of his soul consented to furnish Teuton with the tailors' pasteboard which effects the open sesame to the senate chamber and also assured our friend that he would accompany him to the gallery and find him an eligible seat. Muggins and Teuton started to work their way in, but Muggins was detained outside of the door for a few moments, and our German friend went on and passed the vigilant sentinels at the outer door and went directly to the entrance of the senate chamber and was admitted by the gentlemanly ushers under the belief probably that he was a member of congress and passed through the vestibule and took his seat in the first vacant chair and there remained during the entire session in the confident belief that he was entitled to the seat."

The descendants of Hermann Riedel are living in Washington now. The tailor, who was a "top notch" at his trade, according to all accounts, died in 1877, having declined a pension after serving as a marine during the civil war.—Washington Post.

Testifies After Four Years.

Carlisle Center, N. Y., G. B. Burhans, writes "About four years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and after four years I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and I am evidently cured to stay cured." Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Firm Friends.

"Friendship, boys and girls," said a member of a provincial education committee, "is a thing to be cultivated and practiced by all of us. Read and ponder the stories of the great friendships of sacred and profane history. Take them for your models—David and Jonathan, Damon and Pythias and Scylla and Charybdis."—London Telegraph.

To Be Happy

You must have good health. You can't have good health if your liver is not doing its duty—slow but sure poisoning is going on all the time under such circumstances. Ballard's Herbine makes a perfectly healthy liver—keeps the stomach and bowels right and acts as a tonic for the entire system. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Plenty of Jaw.

Two cockney "ladies" were discussing each other publicly. One said something about the other's "jaw," or "jore." "Garn," answered her opponent, "you've got enough jaw for two sets of teeth, you 'ave."

Warning.

Do not be persuaded into taking anything but Foley's Honey and Tar for chronic coughs, bronchitis, hay fever, asthma, and lung trouble, as it stops the cough and heals the lungs. J. W. McCollum & Co.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

GAINESVILLE, —THE— University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road, affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.
